

THE AMERICAN CITIZEN-LAWYER, WHO ARE WE ANYWAY? (AND WHAT DOES ETHICS AND PROFESSIONALISM HAVE TO DO WITH IT?)

SEMINAL/PRIMARY MATERIALS:

- Autonomy and Life; a life of your own design by Arnold Siegel, an American philosopher (autonomyandlife.com) and see blog November 9, 2020.

RELEVANT PUBLICATIONS (attached):

- Is Scoreboard the Bane of our Profession - New Jersey Law Journal, February 19, 2018
- Happiness for lawyers is more than just the Scoreboard; NJAJ In Brief September 2020

OTHER WRITINGS (attached):

- Slide show from Boardwalk 2021
- American citizen-lawyer: From Scoreboard to Stewardship
- Common Sense II: The Promise of America

FUTURE PODCASTS (to receive notification go to curnowlaw.com and sign up for newsletter entitled: From Scoreboard to Stewardship); complete description attached:

- Build a lucrative law practice (and love it)
- Lawyer's happiness: From Scoreboard to Stewardship
- Is your law practice on the right side or wrong side of history?
- The silver lining in the zilch, nada, zero, nothing "no cause" verdict!

READING MATERIAL

- America's Revolutionary Mind by C. Bradley Thompson
- First Principles by Thomas Ricks
- Our Declaration by Danielle S. Allen
- The Rights of Man by Thomas Paine
- Common Sense by Thomas Paine
- These Truths by Jill Lepore
- The Courtier and the Heretic: Leibniz, Spinoza by Matthew Stewart
- John Adams by David McCullough
- Thinking Fast and Slow by David Kahneman
- Search for Atticus Finch by Mike Papantonio, Esq.
- Thomas Jefferson by John Meacham
- Jefferson's Declaration of Independence by Allen Jayne
- 1776 by David McCullough
- Nature's God: The Heretical Origins of the American Republic by Matthew Stewart
- Ego is the Enemy by Ryan Holiday